PRACTICAL MATTERS (Please read carefully!)

A mission trip such as this is a service trip, not a vacation. The climate may be hot and uncomfortable. You probably won't have AC. Roads may be rough. Facilities may be simple. Hotel standards will probably not measure up to what you are used to. Electricity, running water, and Internet may be intermittent. Your favorite choices in food are likely to be unavailable and variety is almost sure to be far less than you are accustomed to. Bugs may get on the food. Cooking is done for the entire group and individual preferences cannot be catered to. Even if you are a fussy eater, you will need to eat whatever is put before you (without complaining!).

Are you prepared to accept these conditions? _____

Do you have any reservations you'd like to talk with us about? _____
